

Omicron continues to pressure the SET, recommending to gradually accumulate open the city shares.

Investment Ideas:

- Investment overview - We expect the SET this week (29 Nov to 3 Dec) to move within the range of 1,590-1,640 points. The SET closed at 1,610.61 points, down 34.45 points (-2.09%) from the previous week with an average daily turnover of Bt93,574mn, an increase of 11.73%WoW. We expect the SET to still have negative sentiment from the WHO upgrading Omicron novel coronavirus as many countries have begun to impose restrictions on walking for both tourists and flights from African countries so it has increased weight to concerns that the global economy will slow down and lower demand for commodities. We believe these factors will continue to depress investment outlook over the next 1-2 weeks (Until the results of drug and vaccine efficacy testing that can resist Omicron) so this puts weight on concerns about a faster interest rate hike in 2022 as inflation intelligence increases at an accelerated rate, beginning to decline. In the short term, we recommend gradually accumulating stocks in the groups that benefit from the reopening measures (Cancel the lockdown measures), especially stocks in Core Investment in the investment theme Domestic purchasing power is recovering. But avoid stocks that rely on foreigners to open the country. Issues to follow this week are at COVID-19 situation with new Breed Omicron, MSCI Rebalance (30 Nov), OPEC+ Meeting (2 Dec), including Reporting Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) Manufacturing and Services for the U.S., Europe and China.
- Pharmaceutical and vaccine companies speeding up testing of efficacy against Omicron, results expected within 2-3 weeks - World Health Organization (WHO) has classified the novel coronavirus B.1.1.529 or Omicron outbreak in South Africa as a strain of concern (Variant of Concern : VOC), this is the fifth strain of concern after the alpha species (B.1.1.7), which had a severe outbreak in Europe. The beta strain (B.1.351) was once an epidemic in South Africa. The gamma (P.1) and delta (B.1.617.2) strains are still prevalent worldwide today which Omicron has 32 mutations on Spike Protein, leading the WHO to expect immune resistance to have repeated infections and spread faster Today, many companies that produce drugs and vaccines (Pfizer-BioNTech and Novavax) are investigating the efficacy of the vaccine which the result are expected to be known within a few weeks, with South Africa currently estimated to see more than 100 cases per day, including some of the confirmed cases have returned from South Africa, including Hong Kong, Israel, Botswana and Belgium, while the U.S., the European Union, Britain and India have imposed travel restrictions on eight African countries and prohibiting flights from South Africa into the country, including Canada banning foreign nationals from traveling to South Africa in the last 14 days.
- Stocks open the city to gradually accumulate, avoiding open country stocks – We see the stock market decline on concerns over the COVID-19 situation that returned to spread will be negative for stocks that benefit from the opening of the country. (open to investors and foreign tourists) such as tourism groups, hotel groups, aviation business groups, real estate group and industrial estates include AOT, AWC, CENTEL, ERW, MINT, SHR, AAV, BAFS, BA, KBANK, BBL, SCB, TTB, ANAN, LPN, ORI, SIRI, AMATA and WHA but stocks in the group that benefited from the opening measures (Repeal of lockdown measures) including restaurant business, department stores group, Gas station group, retail group, hospital group, urban transport group and out of home media group, we choose M, AU, ZEN, OISHI, CRC, CPN, MBK, PLAT SF, ILM, MBK, COM7, BEAUTY, BJC, DOHOME, GLOBAL, MAKRO, CPALL, TKN, SORKON, SPVI, CHG, BCH, MAJOR, SPA, PTG, OR, SUSCO, OSP, CBG, BEM, BTS, VGI and PLANB are still attractive, especially purchasing power in country that have returned to strength for the remainder of 2021 continue into 2022.
- Crude oil price drop, recommend Anti-oil stocks - WTI crude for January delivery closed at USD68.15 a barrel, down USD10.24 (-13.1%) on concerns about WHO's escalation of the ner COVID-19 specy. This will put pressure on crude oil demand for the remainder of 2021, coupled with weak fundamentals of crude oil prices. We maintain our negative view on the continued increase in oil supply. This will lead to a gradual decline in excess demand and is expected to reach equilibrium in Jan 2022, we view it as an opportunity to invest in anti-oil stocks. We choose SCC, SCGP, TASCOS, EPG, CBG, OSP, JWD, SONIC, PTG, GPSC, BGRIM, GULF, CPALL and BJC.
- Technical View - We expect the SET today to move in the range of 1,600-1,625 points, with the stocks suggesting technical factors, we choose CHG, PLANB and AS.

Foreign Markets: (InfoQuest)

- U.S. stock markets: The Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 34,899.34 points, down 905.04 points (-2.53%), the S&P500 closed at 4,594.62 points, down 106.84 points (-2.27%), and the Nasdaq closed at 15,491.66 points, down 353.57 points (-2.23%). The Dow New York Stock Exchange fell significantly from sales of shares in travel, banking and commodities from concerns about reports of the discovery of new strains of COVID-19 virus that may be resistant to vaccines. Last week, the Dow Jones Industrial Average was down 2%, the S&P500 was down 2.2% and the Nasdaq was down 3.5%.
- European stock markets: The Stoxx Europe 600 index closed at 464.05 points, down 17.67 points (-3.67%). European stock markets declined after reports of the COVID-19 virus new strains that may be resistant to that vaccine. This raises new concerns about its impact on the global economy and encourages investors to sell risky assets out.

Commodities: (InfoQuest)

- Crude oil prices: WTI crude for January delivery closed at USD68.15 per barrel, down USD10.24 (-13.1%), and Brent for January delivery closed at USD72.72 per barrel, down USD9.53 (-11.59%). The New York's West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude futures dropped to an 11 weeks low due to concerns about the COVID-19 new species in South Africa. Last week, WTI crude for January delivery and Brent crude (BRENT) for January delivery were down 10.4% and 8.0%, respectively.
- Gold price: COMEX (Commodity Exchange) gold contract for December delivery closed at USD1,7845.5 per ounce, up USD1.2 (+0.07%). The New York gold futures rose from the news of the COVID-19 virus new species in South Africa so it makes investors come back to add weight to invest in gold as it is a safe asset. In the past week, the COMEX (Commodity Exchange) gold contract for December delivery was down 3.6%.
- Coal price: Coal futures (Newcastle) for January delivery closed at USD170.00 per ton, down USD7.45 (-4.13%).
- Freight: Baltic Dry Index (BDI) closed at 2,767 points, up 89 points (+3.32%).

Other News:

Anti-Corruption Progress Indicator

The disclosure of the Anti-Corruption Progress Indicators of a listed company on the Stock Exchange of Thailand, which is assessed by Thaipat Institute, is made in order to comply with the policy and sustainable development plan for the listed companies of the Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Thaipat Institute made this assessment based on the information received from the listed company, as stipulated in the form for the assessment of Anti-corruption which refers to the Annual Registration Statement (Form 56-1), Annual Report (Form 56-2), or other relevant documents or reports of such listed company. The assessment result is therefore made from the perspective of Thaipat Institute that is a third party. It is not an assessment of operation and is not based on any inside information.

Since this assessment is only the assessment result as of the date appearing in the assessment result, it may be changed after that date or when there is any change to the relevant information. Nevertheless, AWS does not confirm, verify, or certify the accuracy and completeness of the assessment result.
